

REMARKS

Claims 1-7 are pending in the application. In the Office Action of September 21, 2005, the Examiner rejected claims 1-7 under 35 U.S.C. §103(a) as being unpatentable over Walsh in view of Brody. Applicants respectfully traverse the rejection and address the Examiner's disposition below.

Claim 4 has been amended to correct an informality.

Independent claims 1 and 6 have each been amended to clarify that a device layer comprising a plurality of luminescent devices defining pixel units arrayed in a matrix. Each luminescent device has an emitting area that emits independently of the emitting areas of the other luminescent devices.

This is clearly unlike Walsh in view of Brody, which fails to disclose or suggest a plurality of luminescent devices that each has an emitting area that emits independently of the emitting areas of other luminescent devices. Instead, Walsh and Brody each relates to a liquid crystal display device having a liquid crystal layer that is common to a plurality of luminescent devices. Since Walsh's and Brody's liquid crystal layers are common emitting areas for all of their plurality of luminescent devices, Walsh and Brody fail to disclose or suggest emitting areas that emit independently. Thus, for at least this reason, Walsh in view of Brody fails to disclose or suggest claims 1 and 6.

Claims 2-5 and 7 depend directly or indirectly from claim 1 or 6 and are therefore allowable for at least the same reasons that claims 1 and 6 are allowable.

Applicants respectfully submit the rejection has been overcome and request that it be withdrawn.

CONCLUSION

In view of the foregoing, it is submitted that claims 1-7 are patentable. It is therefore submitted that the application is in condition for allowance. Notice to that effect is respectfully requested.

Respectfully submitted,
